

Schelling XBoB

New XBoB 5.0 version

Print labels

Every manually booked remainder can be provided with an automatically printed label. Labels can also be reprinted for existing remainder boards.

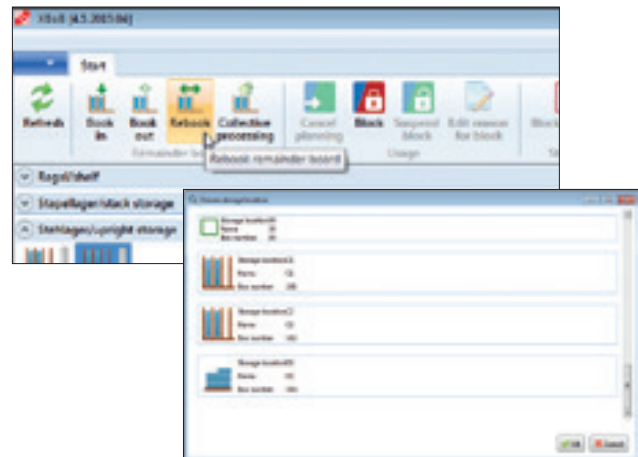

Rebooking of remainder boards by drag and drop

Is a remainder in the wrong storage location, or are you reorganising your remainder storage?

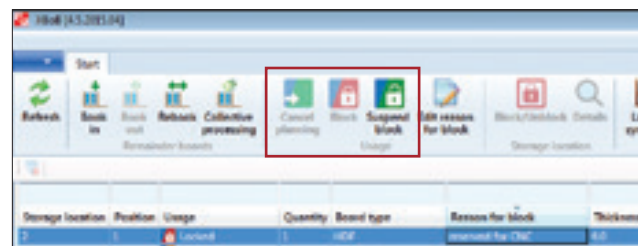

No problem with XBoB 5.0.

Remainder boards can easily be moved into other storage locations. Just drag and drop them or use the software's control elements.

Block remainder boards and show a reason

If remainder boards are to be used for another purpose, other than cutting, you can indicate that with the new blocking function. If you want, you can give a reason for the block. The blocked remainder boards will then not be used by HPO cutting pattern optimization.

Display board customer text

In the storage inventory overview, now customer texts are shown for the remainder boards so that they can be identified even better.
